Montana Migratory Bird Stamp Program

The protection, conservation and development of wetlands and their associated uplands for the benefit of waterfowl and other wildlife right here in Montana continue to be the primary purpose of Montana FWP's Migratory Bird Program. Your license dollars provide important support for these efforts. But the picture is really bigger than this. Partnerships have been formed with many other federal, state and private entities to provide coordination and matching funds for these conservation efforts. The results have been impressive, and the wetlands created, restored and preserved have helped waterfowl make it through the several years of drought we have been experiencing.

There are many other benefits to our Migratory Bird Program. Upland game birds such as sharp-tailed grouse, migratory birds such as cranes and sandpipers, and small grassland birds and mammals reap the benefits of the habitat conservation efforts. Many duck species nest in the upland grasslands surrounding wetland areas. These same uplands provide nesting and rearing habitat for many other kinds of birds. And permanent wetlands may also help landowners provide a water source for their grazing animals. So by helping ducks and geese, you are also helping others.

We hope you will invest in the future of wetland habitat by taking a youngster, friend or former migratory bird hunter along when you go hunting this season. Thanks for your support and enjoy your hunting season!

For further information on the Montana Migratory Bird Program, please contact Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks at 406-444-2612 or write FWP Migratory Bird Program, POB 200701, Helena MT 59620.

These regulations and final quotas are adopted under the authority granted to the commission in Section 87-1-301, MCA and are valid March 1, 2002 through February 28, 2003. These regulations were adopted by the Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks Commission on August 30, 2002. Jeff Hagener, Director.

LICENSE AND MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

• Persons under 12 may not legally hunt game birds.

• Both resident and nonresident migratory game bird hunters must carry on their person the required license(s).

• A valid "Resident of Flathead Reservation Use Permit" with a valid Flathead Reservation bird stamp will be honored by the State wherever hunting for upland or migratory birds is lawful in Montana.

WHOOPING CRANES: Notice – Whooping Cranes are protected by law. It is illegal to take or attempt to take this bird. If a Whooping Crane is sighted, please call 1-406-444-2612.

NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES: More restrictive regulations may apply to national wildlife refuges open to public hunting. For additional information on federal regulations, contact: Special Agent-in-Charge, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, P. O. Box 25486, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colorado 80225. Telephone: 303-234-4612.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

MEANS OF TAKING – Migratory game birds may be taken only with long, recurve or compound bow and arrow or shotgun not larger than ten gauge incapable of holding more than three shells fired from the shoulder. May not be taken from or by means, or aid of, or use of a sinkbox, aircraft, motor vehicle, or motor-driven conveyance of any kind, except a motorboat when the motor has been shut off and the boat has stopped. Use of any electronic or phonographic waterfowl-calling device is illegal.

NON-TOXIC SHOT – It is unlawful for anyone to use or possess a shotgun shell or ammunition loaded with or containing other than federally approved non-toxic shot, while hunting, taking or attempting to take ducks, geese, swans or coots.

Federally approved legal shot includes steel, hevi-shot, tin-bismuth, tungsten-iron and tungsten-polymer. Temporary approval of steel shot with coatings of <1% copper, nickel, zinc chromate or zinc chloride has also been granted for the 2002-2003 hunting season.

Possession of "other than non-toxic shot" means in the gun, or in the pockets, or within reach while in the process of waterfowl hunting. Shot, other than non-toxic shot, left in a vehicle, while parked in the waterfowl hunting area, would not be considered "in possession" for the purpose of hunting.

BAITING – Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 20.11 and 20.21(i). You cannot hunt waterfowl or any other migratory game bird by the aid of baiting or on or over any baited area where you know or reasonably should know that the area is or has been baited. Baiting is the direct or indirect placing, exposing, depositing, distributing, or scattering of salt, grain, or other feed that could lure or attract migratory game birds to, on, or over any areas where hunters are attempting to take them. A baited area is any area on which salt, grain, or other feed has been placed, exposed, deposited, distributed, or scattered, if that salt, grain, or feed could serve as a lure or attraction for migratory game birds.

The 10-Day Rule: A baited area remains off limits to hunting for 10 days after all salt, grain or other feed has been completely removed. Waterfowl will habitually still be attracted to the same area even after the bait is gone. The 10-day rule recognizes that removing bait does not remove the lure created and that waterfowl will still be attracted to the area.

You can hunt migratory game birds, including waterfowl, on, over or from:

• Standing crops or flooded standing crops, including aquatic plants.

• Standing, flooded, or manipulated natural vegetation.

• Flooded harvested croplands.

• Lands or areas where grains have been scattered solely as the result of a normal agricultural harvesting or normal agricultural post-harvest manipulation.

• Lands or areas where top-sown seeds have been scattered solely as the result of a normal agricultural planting, or a planting for agricultural soil erosion control or post-mining land reclamation.

• From a blind or other place of concealment camouflaged with natural vegetation.

• From a blind or other place of concealment camouflaged with vegetation from agricultural crops, provided your use of such
